The Governor's Veto.

As might be expected the Virginia papers strongly condemn Governor Bradley for vetoing the compromise Bullion Tax bill. The Governor had outlined his course in his message. He has for many years resided in Nevada, and been twice elected Governor of our State. His honesty is unquestioned, save by a few men who could not swindle him or the State. All parties, therefore, knew how the Governor stood, and could safely predict the course which he would pursue in reference to this bill to compromise the people's interests. Hence, all this specious, interested abuse so fully bestowed on him, is out of taste, and as absurd and illogical as it is transparent and puerile. The Gold Hill News thus caters to its supporters and insults the good judgments of most of its readers:

"We had hoped that the voice of the people, speaking as it has done for several weeks in decided tones, would be heard and heeded by Governor Bradley. But it seems that in common with the rest of the citizens of the State, we were mistaken, and that the man whom we have raised to rule over us, has respect neither for our demands, nor for the plain interests of the State. It is a veto upon the collection of money justly due the State, and especially the county of Storey. It is a veto which will result in increasing the already burdensome taxation of our farmers and small land-owners, at least twenty-five per cent."

Where is there a sentence of the above "stuff" that does not contain a perverted assertion and a total elimination of all logical justice? The Virginia and Gold Hill papers, with their small back-action, the lately whipped in Tribune, do not give expression to the "voice of the people." This fact is evident from the vote in the legislature. How is his veto "a veto upon the collection of money justly due the State?" By his veto he says that the legal tax upon the net proceeds of the mines shall be collected. This tax is due the State and Storey county, and should be paid. By signing the bill he says: "Relinquish the mine owners from paying a portion of the money which they justly owe the State." These are the uncontroverted facts in the case. Why should the payment of $58,000 more than the compromise provides, increase by twenty-five per cent. the taxes of farmers and small land-owners? Does the State propose to compromise a right which she has declared to be her own? Must the State treat on equal terms her defiant citizens? Why years of delay if her servants say her interests and rights shall be maintained?

The mining companies evidently believe the tax can be collected and without three or four years of litigation, else they would not be so very anxious to compromise on such liberal terms. The State has gained several cases and now when the path is clear, and a near success is assured, to give up the fight is impolitic and cowardly. But suppose for a year or two years the tax could not be collected, who of our citizens that profess any patriotism and love of justice, would not willingly bear slightly increased burdens, that he might maintain inviolate the dignity and sovereignty of his State. The State has just been confronted with a number of mining men who made their demands and threatened her with vexatious suits and harassing delays, unless she acceded to them. Should the people quail before the magistrates, or the servants of the State prove treacherous and betray the State's interests?

Gov. L. R. Bradley is one who will not compromise with wrong. He stands nobly by the State, and this succeeding generations will honor him for nobly maintaining her sovereign right, and fighting manfully for her dues.

Now in reference to the collection of the bullion tax, one of the best lawyers of Nevada says that the suits brought in the Federal Courts have been decided adversely to the companies, all restraint removed and the State is left at liberty to enforce the collection of this tax by all the methods known to the law. If the cases now pending in the State Courts are vigorously prosecuted they can be determined at the April term of the Supreme Court and payment coerced in twenty days thereafter. The Governor of the State, 11 Senators and 23 Assemblymen believe the tax just and that there exists no reason why it should not be collected without unnecessary delay. We hail the Governor's veto. It says there shall be no discrimination between the poor man and the rich one; that the mining interests which have flourished under the bullion tax may do so as easily in the future, and that it is untrue that a reduction of the mining tax is also a reduction of the tax on other property.

Hayes and Wheeler Declared Elected!

President Hayes and Party in Washington.

TROUBLES IN SOUTH CAROLINA

WASHINGTON, March 1. Vermont, Virginia, and West Virginia were counted, and Wisconsin objected to. The Senate retired at half-past 11.

LATER—MIDNIGHT.
The President of the Senate to night, at 12 o'clock, after recapitulation of the electoral vote by States, declared 185 electoral votes for Hayes and Wheeler, and 184 for Tilden and Hendricks, and said: "I am proud to announce to the people of the United States that Hayes and Wheeler have been duly elected President and Vice-President for the next four years."

WASHINGTON, March 1.
The train carrying Governor Hayes and friends arrived in this city on time. The reception, at points along the route, was very enthusiastic, everybody being anxious to see the President-elect.

NEW YORK, March 1.
The Herald Charleston special says a difficulty occurred near Green Pond, South Carolina, by the attempted arrest of three negroes for robbery. They resisted and collected a crowd of their companions, declaring that they would not submit to arrest by Hampton's officers. A posse of ten men were sent out, who found the thieves surrounded by a hundred negroes, all armed. There was some firing but nobody was seriously hurt. The Sheriff, after consultation with Hampton, called out a thousand men, fully armed. The negroes are massing in large numbers, and a bloody encounter is expected.

TELEGRAPHIC.

A Washington date of the 28th says that the Commission has decided, 8 to 7, to count the South Carolina votes for Hayes and Wheeler, and unanimously against the Tilden votes.

Tennessee and Texas were next counted. When Vermont was called, objection was made, and both houses separated and took a recess until yesterday. The Commission adjourned until ten o'clock to-day. Four states remain to be counted, viz: Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin. The count will probably be completed to-day, certainly to-morrow. The Republicans profess to be alarmed and fear Democratic filibustering.

The Tribune prints a letter from a prominent Republican in Washington expressing the greatest apprehension that the count cannot be completed unless the President of the Senate boldly counts the remaining votes, or declares Hayes elected.

Sargent has introduced the report of the Chinese commission into the Senate. Piper will submit the report to the House at his first opportunity.

The indefinite postponement of all the sinking fund bills in the Senate, generally regarded as a great present prospective advantage for the Pacific Railroad corporations, and their official representatives at Washington make no concealment of satisfaction with the result.

The Treasury yesterday destroyed $746,000 in legal tenders, leaving outstanding legal tenders $364,000,000.

The President has appointed J. N. Works Receiver of public moneys at Eureka, Nevada.

By the ditching of a freight train at Bantas, Cal., day before yesterday, a brakeman and tramp were very seriously injured. All the trains were detained several hours.

Silver 55½¢; gold $1.04½; currency 95½¢; trade dollars 99; half dollars 5½¢ per cent. discount.

A Washington date of the 28th says: Randall has telegraphed all the members of the Forty-fifth Congress to be here March 6th.

Vanderbilt's will has been offered for probate. Protests were entered by counsel for Mrs. Mary A. Laban, Ethelinda V. Allen, Maria Clark, Catherine Lafitte and Cornelius J. Vanderbilt. Written notices of appearance were filed with the Surrogate, and the hearing set for two weeks hence.

Senator Stewart calls the attention of commissioners and peace officers to the fact that the anti-wife-beating bill passed both houses of the Legislature and was signed by the Governor some time since. It is now the law of the State, and fixes a heavy penalty on officers neglecting to enforce its provisions. Hereafter wife beaters must stand in the pillory or Senator Stewart will demand to know the reason why. Wife beaters should take notice and govern themselves accordingly.—Virginia Chronicle.

OPPOSED IT.—R. R. Reece: Our Carson dispatches state that the Hon. M. A. Sawtelle vigorously opposed the passage of the Bullion Tax Compromise bill. Mark was evidently one of the twenty-three and has not lost a particle of the good opinion of his constituents for voting with the minority.

The Acting Secretary of the Treasury has issued a call for the redemption of 5-20 bonds of 1865, of May and November. The call is for $10,000,000, of which $7,000,000 are coupon and $3,000,000 are registered bonds, the principal and interest to be paid at the Treasury on and after the 28th of May next.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

FUNERAL SERVICES.—To-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Methodist Church, the funeral services of Mrs. Ruth B. Pendleton will be held. It will be remembered that Mrs. Pendleton died on the 26th ult., at Mason Valley. Her husband, who was sick with the same disease, died, grew worse, and it was thought he would die, hence the delay of her burial. Mrs. P.'s case is particularly a sad one. Less than a year ago she was married in Reno to Rev. Mr. Pendleton and shortly afterwards moved to Pine Grove where he preached and she taught school. She was formerly Miss Stiner and was well known in Sierra Valley and in this place. She lived in Reno about two years, a portion of which time she attended our public schools. She was known as an amiable, intelligent, Christian young woman.

PURE HONESTY(?)—Our friend on the back street has been listening to a very interesting conversation "between two representative Reno men." One said "Three cheers for Bradley." The other remarked "I think he is a d-d fool." Our cotem. says "the popular sentiment is with the latter gentleman."

A man is either governed by principle or ignoble influences. How does this county regard Powning in this matter? He well knows that he misstates the sentiment of nine-tenths of the people of Washoe county when he says they favor the compromise. Does he speak his own views, or are his opinions dictated? He may express an uninfluenced belief, but it lacks an honest look on the face.

APPRECIATED PRESENT.—The young lady boarders at the Episcopal Seminary this morning presented to their pastor and chaplain, Rev. Wm. Lucas, a "History of Christianity," by Millman, 3 volumes, and "History of Latin Christianity," 8 vols. The Rev. gentleman was completely taken by surprise, but his face spoke more eloquently than his tongue his thankfulness to the young ladies for a present of so much use to him, and one which he so highly appreciates.

WINDY NIGHT FOR A SERENADE.—Last night about 11 o'clock, our quiet and peaceful slumbers were disturbed by the sound of strange yet melodious music. It seemed like a hundred dogs coming down street and every dog had a tin can attachment. The music was good but it wasn't a good night for a charivari. After doing the "Mulligan Guards" and several kindred pieces, the company sang Home, Sweet Home and then drew in their "horns."

MAN KILLED.—Last night a man by the name of Wilcox, while under the influence of liquor, endeavored to board train No. 6 at Truckee. He got between two box cars, and by some means fell from his position, and was run over by the train and instantly killed. He was a stranger in Truckee and was about 30 years of age. It was not known whether he was a tramp or not.

We found a lawyer and a constable in the Justice's office to-day and the Justice off on a visit to the public schools. The lawyer yawned, we hastily removed to a place of safety, and the constable, gapping, said "I don't know any news; I'll become a Sunday School teacher."

FOUND.—Last evening we published an advertisement of a fur cape lost, and the paper had not been out over twenty minutes when the fur was brought to our office by the finder. Such is the benefit of advertising.

The usual public exercises were held in the public schools this afternoon. These Friday exercises consist of declamations, readings singing, dialogues and essays.

Mr. Alexander is regaling himself in Carson to-day. We look for him to bring a piece of Gov. Bradley's hand over with him.

WANTED.—A competent woman desires a situation to do chamber work or to serve in the dining room of a hotel. Apply at this office.

Choice dairy cattle for sale, cheap for cash. Apply at this office.

SILVER-PLATED WARE.—S. N. Davidson announces that he will sell during the Holidays quadruple silver-plated Hapsburg, of recent make, with faithful engraved thereon, for 25 cents, largest size, 50 cents. Silver tumblers with tassels engraved, 25 cents, and all other goods in proportion.

The Chronicle on Governor Bradley.

The Virginia Chronicle Attempts to Misrepresent Governor Bradley.

Yesterday's Virginia Chronicle says: A general feeling of disgust and indignation will be aroused by the news that Governor Bradley has vetoed the amended bullion tax bill.

After charging the Governor with being pig-headed, putting "his signature between a whole State and a bill which it desired," and that he would oppose the business men of the State and side in with the owner of a spavined ox. The Chronicle further says:

We are sorry to say, however, that we have a graver complaint than mere pig-headedness to bring against the Governor. His veto of the bill is a direct breach of faith. The compromise proposition was submitted to him, the controller and the Treasurer, before being introduced, and he agreed to it. Had he not done so, the bill would not have been introduced at all.

We thought this a little steep and telegraphed to the Governor for the facts in the case. The following dispatch is his reply:

CARSON, March 2d, 1877. Editor Gazette: Any statement whatever that I ever agreed to sign the so called compromise bill is totally false. L. R. BRADLEY.

We prefer taking the word of the honest old Governor, and we think our readers will do the same. We also rejoice that the legislature sustained his veto; and we firmly believe that two-thirds of the people of the State will also rejoice.

This evening we may expect a mass of abuse of Governor Bradley in the Virginia Enterprise. How nauseating they will be. That paper will, of course, excommunicate the honest old Governor from the society of good men and Bonanza angels. The Gold Hill News will be more moderate, but will, of course, have to say something. The Chronicle will tax the English language for expletives; and the little religious Deacon, of the Carson Tribune, will amuse us all by his indignation.

The amended Bullion-tax law just passed in time to prevent in the Reno Gazette office a repetition of the catastrophe which Esop tells us occurred in the case of the frog who endeavored to expand himself to ox-like dimensions.—Va. Chronicle.

Yes, we remember to have read of that unfortunate tadpole—he "busted." So did the "amended Bullion-tax-law," and so would the Chronicle frog if he sought to equal the honesty, integrity and public spirit of our own noble "Old Broadhorns."

LEAD POISON.—The furnace men and even the miners of Eureka have always been more or less subject to that painful and dangerous disease known as lead poisoning. The disease at present is particularly prevalent. Dr. Bishop informs us that yesterday he issued fifty prescriptions to the employees of one company alone.—Eureka Republican.

Yesterday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, C. S. Varian, R. P. Chapin and J. F. Alexander started over to shake hands with Governor Bradley and witness the closing scenes of the 8th session of the Nevada Legislature. If the Carsonites don't beseech them to stay too long, we shall have a word to say about what the Reno trio saw, heard and did at the State Capital.

McRAVEY'S MURDERER SENTENCED. The motions for arrest of judgment and for a new trial in the case of the State vs. Harry Thompson, alias Huff, were denied yesterday, and defendant was sentenced to be hanged on Friday April 20th, 1877, between the hours of 9 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M.

A WOMAN AND CHILD DROWNED.—Mrs. Lane and child are reported drowned at the toll-gate near Hot Springs, at Elko. A large crowd left town to recover the bodies upon hearing the sad news.—Silver State.

Boston has a social organization called "Us Two." We have always maintained that a limited organization of that kind, with nightly meetings at the front gate in summer and in the back parlor in winter, afforded more chance for improvement than any of the overgrown societies.—Ex.

Some of the iron furniture for the new County Jail in Virginia City has arrived. The jail birds will be removed to their new quarters as soon as the perches are in.

The monthly mining dividends for February aggregated $1,514,000, against $1,619,700 for the same month in 1876.

Jottings.

We learn that the Reno flouring mill is to be started up in a few days. This is good news to our county.

This is the kind of weather when people should be very cautious about fire. It would be almost impossible to put out a fire such a day as this.

To-day the carpenters are putting the rafters into place on the Depot Hotel, and it will not be long now before the building is roofed over. If the rain only holds back for a few days Chamberlain will be ready for it.

Our streets are again getting into shape. This windy weather is just the thing to dry up the mud.

A situation in a hotel is desired by a competent woman. Read the notice elsewhere.

We hear of a guitar corps soon to be formed in Reno by a number of amateurs.

Call around and see our specimens of fine job printing.

The amateur dramatic troupe are making good progress. The play now in preparation will be put on the stage on the evening of the 15th.

A Reno youngster was heard this morning pleading earnestly for the "whalebone" of a defunct chicken. The wishbone was what he wanted, and it was a singular mistake, as most boys of his age are very familiar with the appearance of a whalebone.

Ladies wishing to have their old Summer Hats remodeled will please send them to my place of business as soon as possible. Respectfully, MRS. J. PRESCOTT.

MINCE PIE.—When one of the market women yesterday asked Brother "Tom Gardner" if the sight of a fresh-baked mince pie didn't make his mouth water, he looked from mince pie to fried Bologna and back to cold biscuit, and he replied:

"Dar wuz a time when I did. In doze good ole days ob long ago, when dey built mince pies out'n meat, apples, brandy an' spices, dar was a successive hankering to git up close to a mince pie. But in dese days, when dey erect such pies out'n de dust griz- icks an' de dust apples an' de dust pick- ings dat come handy, nail on de top crust, an' scalloped de edges wid dar false teeth, why 'Ize gwine to stan' 'roun an' stan' 'roun an' take de chances on finding a cokyunt in de gutter.—Free Press.

Had him safe. A rural female beauty alighted from the stage coach the other day, when a piece of ribbon detached itself from her bonnet and fell into the bottom of the carriage. "You've left your bow behind," said a lady passenger. "No, I ain't; he's gone a-fishing," innocently replied rustic.

"Trail oars," shouted the Captain as the victorious regatta crew pulled up alongside the wharf. "Ah," said a bystander, "I suppose that is what you call the oars-trail-ian style of rowing!" They pitched him overboard without a word.

True politeness.—Polite youth: "Excuse me, sir, but you've dropped your cigar ash on your trousers." Crusty old gent: "Well, sir, and what then? You've had a fusee burning in your sleeve for the last quarter of an hour, and I never interfered with you!"

A Saratoga letter writer asks, in despairing tones, "Where are the men?" We don't know, dear, just where all of them are, but from our sanctum window we just now saw six of them file around behind the screen of a sample room over the way.
